Upcoming Tiburon Peninsula Village Events

Crazy Week!

Wow, it's been a crazy week! Hope everyone did ok with the power outages. Turned out to be a fortuitous time to be delivering those emergency fanny packs, no?

Pictured below are Paola Kulp, Peter Davis (with Rotary member Roger Williams) and Lois Cannaday (with volunteer Doug Woodring). This project was funded by the Rotary Club of Tiburon Sunset. The packs are being delivered by TPV volunteers and Tiburon Sunset members. If you still haven't received one, you will shortly. You can call or email Cherie Sorokin to ask her about when your delivery is scheduled. 415 789-5305.

November Events Worth Noting

Sudha's Sale

Starting this Saturday is the annual Sudha's Treasures Pop Up Sale at Town Center in Corte Madera. This is a great opportunity to pick up some wonderful gifts for yourself or others while at the same time benefiting Marin Villages! Sudha manufactures high quality goods for museum stores and retail establishments such as Bergdorfs. At the end of the year, she sells the very same merchandise at steeply discounted prices for the benefit of selected Marin nonprofits. For the second year in a row, Marin Villages is a beneficiary of Sudha's generosity --along with Whistlestop and the Marin Symphony. Come see for yourself. The store opens this Saturday at 10 am. The sale continues for only two weeks, so don't put off going. If you need a ride, call the office. Perhaps we can arrange a shopping trip together!

Pictured below are Marin Villages volunteers Beth Livotti and Annemarie Clark, showing off some of the jewelry and one of the many scarves available at the sale. There are some great bargains!

10th Anniversary Celebration

November 17th, 11:30 am to 2:00 pm

We will wind up our 10th anniversary celebrations with a luncheon. Comedian Josh Kornbluth will be our speaker.

Sunday, November 17th at 11:30 am

at the Marin Country Club.

Come join a TPV table and celebrate Marin Villages 10th anniversary at the beautiful Marin Country Club in Ignacio. This is the last of the fabulous 10 events we've held this year in recognition of our growth from a gleam in the eye of our founder Loulie Sutro to one of the largest and busiest villages in nationwide village movement.

Our speaker will be Josh Kornbluth, a comedian and film maker, as well as the Hellman Visiting Artist at UCSF's Memory and Aging Center, and an Atlantic Fellow for Equity in Brain Health at the Global Brain Health Institute. He's making a series of brain- and justice-related online videos, titled Citizen Brain, as well as working on a one-man show and a feature film both of which deal with brain-related issues.

Tickets are $100 of which $50 is a donation to Marin Villages. Questions? RSVP? Need a ride? Call the office: 415 457-4633.

We hope to have a really big crowd for this final event!

Coffee at Rustic Bakery on the Boardwalk

Thursday, November 14 , 10:30 to 11:30 am

No need to RSVP, but if you need a ride, please call the office to arrange it. Do join us! Dutch treat coffee and pastry, and always interesting conversation. Look Cherie or Gatian, and for the Marin Villages tent card on one of the tables.

Thanksgiving. And, of course, Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 28th. Wishing everyone the long end of the wishbone and plenty of pie, however you decide to celebrate this quintessential American holiday.

Looking Back at October

On the day the electricity died, we celebrated Diwali, the Indian festival of lights. This was a friend and fundraiser at Cherie Sorokin's home in Tiburon and the 9th of our 10th anniversary events. Miraculously Lakshmi, the Hindu goddess of prosperity, arranged for the lights to stay on until after the party ended at 8:00 pm! Whew. But, of course we also had plenty of candles. See below.

Looking Forward to December

Save the Date for our Holiday Dinner on Monday night, December 16 at 5:30 at the home of Cherie Sorokin.

Empowering older adults to keep active, connected and independent in the homes and communities they love.
