June 2023 Newsletter

Cherie Sorokin, editor

It's June and summer flowers are coming! I particularly love sunflowers. Did you know they thrive in every state of the U.S. and at least for most gardeners are among the easiest of the "showy" flowers to cultivate and grow? Green thumb or not, and whether or not you have 40 acres to plant as pictured above, maybe try growing at least one or two sunflowers on your deck or patio this summer. Flowers bring happiness!

Not gone yet!

In Dr. Matt Willis's video mid-May he reported that only 10 people were currently hospitalized with COVID in Marin. We have moved into the low level of risk category for COVID infections, and death rates from COVID in our county have declined significantly. He attributes this to Marin's high level of vaccinations, which has helped residents here avoid infections and also helped reduce the severity of illness in those who do get infected. But he also pointed out that immunity from infection does wear off, and everyone over 65 is strongly encouraged to get a second bivalent booster. These boosters are widely available in Marin so please do consider making an appointment for one for yourself, and the sooner the better! Wish they had been available before my trip to NY, which was the source of my own recent infection!

If you haven't already seen it, you can check out Dr. Willis's advice in this video!

What do you know about Juneteenth?

In 2021, the federal government recognized June 19th, or elided together "Juneteenth," as a federal holiday. The date of June 19, 1865 was the date 250,000 enslaved Blacks in Texas finally received news of their emancipation when the Union Army made its way into Galveston. The emancipation of slaves had been officially declared by Abraham Lincoln two years earlier but ignored by states under Confederate control. Starting in 1866 the date came to be celebrated in Galveston and became an official Texas state holiday in 1980. It has been a well-known day celebrating liberation, culture and joy in many Black communities across the country for years but was unknown to many Whites until the declaration of the Federal holiday. There are sure to be a number of programs on TV and locally here in Marin celebrating Juneteenth this year, but you can also learn more about its importance and history from the links below to articles from the Smithsonian and The New York Times.

You might also want to listen to this rousing rendition of Lift Every Voice and Sing, known as the Negro National Anthem. It is closely associated with Juneteenth.

Our spring fundraising campaign is on!

If you have previously donated to Marin Villages, by now you should have received a letter from John Power, our executive director, letting you know our annual spring fundraising campaign is on and we'd love to hear from you again. If you haven't yet become a donor, now is good time to think about becoming one! We are so grateful for all the donations we receive from our members and volunteers and donors. They make it possible for us to continue growing and to expand our services and gatherings which contribute so meaningfully to our lives. Thank you in advance for helping us out. No gift is too small (or large 😊)! You can donate from our website www.marinvillages.org or just send a check to Marin Villages at 4340 Redwood Highway, F-142, San Rafael, CA 94903.

Fun videos you can hum along with!

Hard to think of June without thinking of Rogers and Hammerstein's June is Busting Out all Over! <https://rodgersandhammerstein.com/song/carousel/june-is-busting-out-all-over/>

How about this version of Love is All from Playing for Change? Sung and played by kids from around the world! <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=q4T37EaW4eU>

Here's one called June Gloom, but it's about love, not the weather! Pretty, though.

And then there's this one with some great advice!

REMEMBER TO LAUGH A LITTLE

June is the month for love and many, many weddings, so there's never any shortage of humor on love and marriage at this time of year!

"We were married for better or worse. I couldn't have done better, and she couldn't have done worse." - Henry Youngman

"My wife, Mary, and I have been married for forty-seven years, and not once have we had an argument serious enough to consider divorce. Murder, yes, but divorce, never." - Jack Benny

"My most brilliant achievement was my ability to persuade my wife to marry me." - Winston Churchill

"What's the best way to get your husband to remember your anniversary? Get married on his birthday." - Cindy Garner

"When a man opens a car door for his wife, it's either a new car or a new wife." Prince Phillip

"Keep your eyes wide open before marriage, half shut afterwards." - Benjamin Franklin

"Marriage has no guarantees. If that's what you're looking for, go and live with a car battery." - Emma Bombeck

"I married for love but the obvious side benefit of having someone around to find my glasses cannot be ignored." - Cameron Esposito

"To keep your marriage brimming; with love in the loving cup... Whenever you're wrong admit it; whenever you're right, shut up." - Ogden Nash

"Love is a lot like a backache; it doesn't show up on X-rays, but you know it's there." - George Burns
